Bailey Case — State Tax Refunds - State Retirees. State and local government retirees filed a class action suit in 1990 as a result of the repeal of the income tax exemption for state and local government retirement benefits. The original suit was dismissed after the North Carolina Supreme Court ruled in 1991 that the plaintiffs had failed to comply with state law requirements for challenging unconstitutional taxes and the United States Supreme Court denied review. In 1992, many of the same plaintiffs filed a new lawsuit alleging essentially the same claims, including breach of contract, unconstitutional impairment of contract rights by the State in taxing benefits that were allegedly promised to be tax exempt and violation of several state constitutional provisions.

Patton Case — State Tax Refunds - Federal Retirees. On May 23, 1995, retired federal employees sued for refund of income taxes paid upon pension income for tax years 1989 through 1993. They alleged that the incremental pension increases granted state retirees since 1989 unconstitutionally discriminate against them. The North Carolina Supreme Court ruled in the Bailey case on Friday, May 8, 1998. On June 9, 1998 representatives of the State and the various retirees involved in the Bailey and Patton cases announced a settlement in the amount of $799 million. Of this amount, $400 million was paid in refunds in November 1998 for fiscal year 1998-99, and $399 million in July of fiscal year 1999-2000.

Smith v. State – Intangibles tax refunds to non-protesting taxpayers. On February 21, 1996, the U.S. Supreme Court declared North Carolina's intangibles tax unconstitutional. Subsequently, the State made refunds of intangible taxes paid by all persons who had complied with the provisions of G.S. 105-267, Taxes to be paid; suits for recovery of taxes, for obtaining refunds of unconstitutional taxes. The Smith case is an action aimed principally at recovering intangibles tax refunds for taxpayers who failed to comply with the provisions of G.S. 105-267. On December 4, 1998, the Supreme Court ruled that North Carolina will have to pay refunds to non-protesters who paid intangibles taxes. This case has been consolidated with Shaver v. State, another action for refund of intangibles tax paid on shares of stock. The consolidated case has now been settled and the agreement requires the State to pay $440 million into a settlement fund in two installments, $200 million by October 1, 1999, and $240 million by July 10, 2000.

[1] Corporate income tax collections through April include franchise tax payments estimated at $82.9 million. A transfer of payments to franchise tax from corporate tax will occur when corporations file their final tax return in October of this year.

[2] The large negative variance from the April budget estimate is primarily due to the extended individual income tax filing deadline (April 17). There were only 12 days to process tax returns this April, compared to 14 days in April 1999. Therefore, a large volume of returns was carried over for processing in May of this year.
